On Wednesday a six-year-old child named Catlyn Plume was having a birthday at Chucky Cheddar's Pizza. One of the partygoers named Roger Fiddlewickers dropped his slice of totally not recycled pizza on the unclean carpeted floor. He was bawling his eyes out; straight up tears because he dropped his pizza. The mother of Roger – Karen Fiddlewickers was outraged and sued the Chucky Cheddar's company! Sources say the Beloved Pizza chain may fall through because of this financial hit. The CEO of CCP claims that things had been running smoothly for over forty years since the grand opening of Chucky Cheddar's Yummy Yum Theatre in 1983. All it took was one inarticulate lummoX of a child to demolish the worshipped franchise. The Chucky Cheddar company with their characters that include the face of the company, Chucky Cheddar, Mr. Crunch, Chucky's right-hand man, Jerry B. Jaws, his love interest, Rachel Rooster, and the funny member of the group, Pantalli the Pizza cooker. We'd all hate to see these beloved characters go. They have influenced and enamored kids of all ages for decades! Roger the stupid dullard has become infamous around the state for being the blockhead who destroyed our favorite pizza chain. SUPERHEROS

Writer: Johnny Sakes

1. “Spider Man”

The beloved Arachnid Boy has been a staple of pop culture. There are countless live action and animated movies and shows. There are toys and merchandise. Just be sure to not be tricked by this irrationally shameful rip-off called “Spider Man” Low quality garbage merchandise of this red annoying idiot has clouded the market and is leaving people wondering “Did they even try to be original with this one?”

2. “Super Man”

This awful rip-off of the famous Superb Guy called “Super Man” is actually becoming more and more common in stores because people are so easily tricked by the similar design. It seems like they just took a picture of Superb Guy and shifted the colors of certain places to make it look slightly different. The worst part is that “Super Man” is missing Superb Guy’s famous mask that he is known for. Can’t say that’s for the better... It’s his defining trait!

3. “Captain America”

This is possibly the worst of them all. They took a beloved Canadian hero and just made him a fat American. Instead of maple syrup, “Captain America” gets his power from Pepsi! Instead of riding a moose, he drives a Ford F-150! Instead of curling, this rip-off plays American football! Disgraceful indeed. In one “ABC learning toy” featuring this fraud, he pronounced Z like Zee instead of Zed. Teaching kids the wrong pronunciation is where we draw the line!

CHINA SENDS ANOTHER ROUND OF BOMBERS TO RAIN OVER OHIO

*Ohio in a China shop

Writer: Yokiari Samilaka

The large and infamous country known to most as China has flown a large number of bombers over Ohio and was dropping bombs like hot potatoes. On all of the major cities such as Cincinatti, Colombus, Cleveland, Toledo, Akron, and even Radnor! The cause of this is most likely the ban on importation of babies into the state. Importing babies to Ohio was one of China’s largest industries with the biggest income. China was not happy with this. Neither were any of the Ohioans either! The battle, in a way is quite stupid since the Chinese and Ohioans are both upset about the same thing, yet they are going to war anyway. It just goes to show how stupid people can be... I mean, you are the one reading this mindless garbage right now...

NOTORIOUS CRIMINAL “BARNABUS THE BONOBO” ESCAPES CINCINATTI ZOO AND BOTANICAL GARDEN

*Ape Caper department

Writer: Sam I Am

The infamous criminal “Barnabus the bonobo” is known for being a part of the well-known organized crime posse known as the “Ape Gang” He was being held in custody at the Cincinatti Zoo and Botanical Garden, but his enclosure (More commonly known as cell) was found with large stacks of boxes forming a staircase that leads above the wall. We don’t know what all of the boxes were for, and we still don’t know how he managed to escape the high security zoo. The picture to the left depicts Barnabus’s mugshot from when he entered the zoo on April 1st. After Barnabus escaped, there are only two of the six members of the notorious “Primate Posse” are still locked up. This could mean crime and terror for Cincinatti and other close by cities. Let’s hope that Orwell the orangutan and Charleston the Chimpanzee do not somehow escape!
